Olympic Gold Medalist Henry Cejudo, Serving as Coca-Cola 8-pack Athlete, Visits City of Hialeah Bucky Dent Gymnasium on June 21

HIALEAH, FL. – Henry Cejudo is the youngest American gold medalist in the history of U.S. wrestling. At age 22, he published his first book, “American Victory.” Through his drive, determination and commitment to active, healthy living, Cejudo is as an inspiration to the Hispanic community.

Cejudo serves as one of Coca-Cola’s 8-pack athletes, representing Coca-Cola’s “Ambassadors of Active Living” to inspire people to lead healthy, balanced lives. Cejudo is also one of the faces of the “Luchandos Juntos/Fighting the Good Fight” program, which truly captures the spirit of the 2012 Games.

On Thursday, June 21, 2012, the City of Hialeah, in Partnership with The Coca-Cola Company, is hosting a wrestling clinic with Henry Cejudo at Bucky Dent Gymnasium. Mayor Hernandez and Cejudo will open the event, which will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Approximately 75 children ages 13-16 from various local high schools will be participating in the wrestling clinic. Lunch will be provided for all children, compliments of Coca-Cola.

Location: City of Hialeah Bucky Dent Gymnasium – 2250 W. 60 Street

Date: June 21, 2012

Time: 10:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m.

Cejudo will be available for interviews from 10:30-11:00
